1 Institutional Eligibility

Program and institution pre-qualification confirms that the organization operates at a high level and delivers procurement and supply chain management programs of the highest level.

2 Program Accreditation

The assessment of the program is a guaranteed deep dive into the content of the program. Through the assessment the organisation can demonstrate that the substance, assessment, and outcomes of the program meet the IFPSM Global Standard´s transparent criteria.

3 Improvement Check

The institute is offered an opportunity through the process and with an assessor to review its program structure, the policies, and operations throughout, as well as to ensure that the institution is committed to continuous improvement.

4 Assessor's Final Report

Independent assessors examine degree equivalent programs from around the world against the Global Standard's criteria for content, delivery, and assessment. The institute then receives a final report in which the assessor's findings and recommendations are summarized.

5 Accreditation of the Institute

The educational institute that provides the accredited program receives an IFPSM Global Standard Certificate of Recognition. The institute will be recognized as a holder of the IFPSM Global Standard.

6 Student Certificates

Candidates that successfully complete a Global Standard accredited program receive a certificate. Each certificate includes a unique QR code that can be used to check the authenticity of the certificate through a dedicated web site.
